PACE Society is a peer-driven, non-profit organization operating in Vancouver.
We provide confidential, non-judgmental services by, with, and for current and former sex workers of all genders.
We operate under an anti-oppressive, harm reduction model and offer a wide range of support services.

Drop-in Centre Open Monday – Thursday 10am – 4pm We have a harm reduction window! You can access clothing, make-up, toiletries, snacks, and harm reduction supplies.
SWAC The Sex Worker Advisory Committee meets one Friday a month. This committee, comprised of BIPOC current and former sex workers, reports to and advises the board of directors in making decisions that uphold our ethics and support our community.
Occupational Health and Safety Workshop The Occupational Health and Safety Workshop is held each Monday and Wednesday excluding holidays. Next current cohort starts from April 15th. Contact Rye for details: rye@pace-society.org	Trans Luncheon Club This weekly social and meal program is held in person on Tuesdays for trans, Two-Spirit, non-binary and gender diverse persons who have worked in Sex Work.
Indigenous Sharing Circle This drop-in group is held every Thursday, from 12pm-2pm. It is open to the first ten participants. Unfortunately we cannot reserve spaces in advance. This program is open to all Indigenous members.	LSLAP Legal Clinic for Sex Workers In partnership with LSLAP, law students can provide free legal advice and/or aid for sex workers who cannot afford a lawyer. Please contact PACE to book an appointment for the legal clinic, or drop-in during clinic dates (On hold in April):
Other services include: support services, counseling, peer health navigation, outreach, gender self-determination project, and more! Drop-in, or email support@pace-society.org, to learn more about our services and/or to become a member!
